WORKSHOP HIGHLIGHTS

EMPHASIS ON CONTENT AND STRATEGY

Highland Park High School has taken a step toward a more comprehensive approach to preparation for the PSAT and SAT exams. Strict college enrollment and stiff competition for scholarship funds have made performance on the PSAT and SAT even more important than in past years.

The SAT I scores provide colleges with a way to compare the academic preparation and ability of students who apply for admission. The SAT I measures verbal and mathematical reasoning abilities.

VERBAL questions test ability to perform the following skills:

- ◇ understand and analyze critical reading passages
- ◇ recognize relationships between parts of a sentence
- ◇ establish relationships between analogous pairs of words

Vocabulary skills are tested using reading passages, sentences, completion and analogies.

MATHEMATICS questions test ability to solve problems involving:

- ◇ arithmetic
- ◇ algebra
- ◇ geometry

INSTRUCTORS

The teachers, highly skilled in verbal and math content, have developed these workshops using their own professional backgrounds and information from current materials in the field.
